CAMPBELL IS BUSIEST TOWN OF ITS SIZE IN STATE OF CALIFORNIA

Improvement Club Holds Lively Session

73,800 Votes Cast in Election

Monday evening the Improvement Club held a very interesting session in Cleland's and many matters of interest to the welfare of the town were discussed. Perhaps the main business of the evening was the report of the Portola Girl committee, but when the report was called for, it was noticed that all 3 members of the committee were conspicuous by their absense. This was a strange thing indeed to those present but it was wonderfully clear in the minds of the committee, who thought they were in for a beating or something. All of them had suddenly remembered that night that they had engagements elsewhere, so made arrangements with others to report for them. Their report was accepted and a vote of thanks tendered them for their efforts. No kick was coming at all and everybody was satisfied. It was found that 73,800 votes had been cast in the following portions:- Merna Sawyer 39,200, Mabel Crow 25050, Alice Duncan 3850, Viola Layman 1800, Mary Beaver 1050, Marguerite Henchliffe 750 Bernice Lloyd 50 and Elmarie Hurlbert 50. It was moved and seconded that the following amounts be drawn from the treasury and applied for the following purposes:- $25 to the Santa Clara Co. float committee, $15 to the winner of the contest for her expenses, $2.50 each to the two next highest contestants for expenses of trip to the Portola Festival.

Several other things came up for consideration but as they are as yet in the disscussion stage it was thought best not to make them public at present.

Merna Sawyer Rides in Float

In the Portola Parade in the city Thurs day the Santa Clara County float was by far the prettiest and the most admired. All the towns in the county were represedted including Campbell who chose as her lovliest miss, Merna Sawyer. The parade was a gorgeous affair and the floats were grand affairs but ours was the bestest.

To Publish A Booster Edition

The Palo Alto Citizen announced last week that it would soon publish a magnificent booster edition that would take in the whole county. Don't forget us Bro. Hathaway for we are the center of the fruit belt. We wish you success and will impatienly wait for its arrival.

About as Clear As Mud.

Who says there is no such thing as an "American Language?" The following item was clipped from a recent artical on the Pittsburg-Detroit games, which is Greek to an Englishman.

Sixth inning: Pittsburg—Wagner sent a long fly to D. Jones. Miller singled to center, making the first hit off Mullen since the first inning. Abstein fouled to Schmidt and Miller was doubled up going to second after the catch. Bush made a wonderful one-handed catch and with a lightning-like flash of his gloved hand tagged Miller. No runs."

It sounds like this if translated one way, "Wagner mailed a large speciman of a fly to D. Jones. Miller went into the center alone, after soaking Mullen for the first time since the first inning. Abstein hit Schmidt below the belt, which glanced off and doubled up Miller who was going to get there a second after he got the string of fish. Bush caught a fine one with one hand and with a lightning like flash tagged Miller with his gloved hand before he got to the creek. No one ran." Which sounds like the city editor had gotten a fishing story mixed with a prizefight. One is about as clear as the other though.—And Pittsburg won.

"In the High Sierras" Tonight Is Postponed

Tonight Rev. D. T. Patchell can't give on account of a sudden attack of sickness a very fine lecture entitled, "In the High Sierras." Rev. Patchell is a fluent talker and will handle his sucject in a masterful manner and will be well worth hearing. He will speak at the Congregational church at some future time.

North and South Methodists Join

Atlanta, Ga. Oct. 22.—The union of the northern and southern branches of the Congregational Methodist church was officially announced in last week's issue of the Watchman, the general organ of the church published here.

The church originated in 1852, adopting a democratic form of government. In 1888 another conference was organized and since that time the two conferences have been working as seperate organizations.

Oh You Chicago Mail Order Houses!

Last week began an advertising campaign in this paper on the part of the Arcade in San Jose, to bring thbse people around who have been mailing large orders to eastern firms, in order to get them to leave the money at home. If they had rather send in mail orders than to go the stores to trade the Arcade is ready ts serve them as will be seen by their ad, this week. We do not doubt but that many who have never heretofore traded with the Arcade when in San Jose will be found there more than once. Advertising pays alright and if more of the merchants would realize the fact, there would not be nearly as much money going east as there is now.

Countrymen's Club Meets

Tuesday evening the Countrymen's Club held its regular session in the Library building. The subject "New Library Lvws" was opened by Dr. Cooper with a very interesting talk which described the County system of Libraries.

Save the date, Friday evening October 29th.

Chivarri Given to Rubells.

We had just lain ourself down on our downy couch last night and had given ourself up to pleasant dreams of subscribers paying their delinquent subscriptions and a year or two in advance, of Campbell merchants begging us to insert their half page ads and of orders for one thousand letterheads at $5 per, when we woke with the true editor's intuition that something was going to drop. We listened and soon we heard a voice say, "One—Two—Three, let 'er go." And she sure let 'er go alright. Such a racket never was heard outside of a boiler factory before, and it made us shrink. Can it be the vigilance committee after us, we thought? And we got so scared we got out on the floor on our knees and began to———look for our shoes (because all editors die with their boots on) when we happened to think that Rubell and his bride had returned from their honeymoon and that the boys were celebrating the fact. Thankful that we had a few more days to live we removed our shoes and crawled back between the sheets, to wonder if newly married people ever subscribe to the home paper.

Free October Calendar Blotters

We have a few more very nice blotters with the calendar month of October printed on them which we will give away, one to each person who calls.

Santa Clara College Nine Won 11-4

Last Saturday the local high school boys played the first game of baseball of the season, being beaten in a hard fought contest with the first team of Santa Clara College on the local diamond at the high school. It was probably a good thing that they were baaten for it showed them their weak points and saved them the unecessary experience of swelled head. The boys can well be proud of their team for we doubt if a high sch'l in the county can beat them.

Town Team Loses to Baking Co.

Last Sunday the local town team lost a game of baseball to the San Jose Baking Company by the score of 4 to 1. The score might have been different had not the doughslingers made off with the official balls in the eighth inning, thus preventing play until it was too dark to see to play. Next Sunday they will play the Meridian team.

Youth's Companion Subscribers

Your subscription to the Youth's Companion will no doubt be up soon and if you will bring your renewal here to this office instead of sending it direct to the publishers, it will give a local person a chance to earn a commission and will not cost you as much by about 5 cents, figuring that the time to write, the paper and the envelope and the postage to that amount.

Rochdale Company's New Dry Goods

Below will be seen the advertisment of the Campbell Rochdale Company who have received their new line of Dry Goods and are making the fact public. It really looks as if Campbell merchants were beginning to realize the value of advertising space. It is fact that a small space pays and a large space pays better and we believe the won't be a person in Campbell but that will see this ad. much to the Rochdale's profit.

Packing Houses are Rushed With Work

Work for Every Person

The packing plants of Campbell are being rushed with fruit which is pouring in from the ranches surrounding the town at a rate which is astonising. The Hyde and Co. Packing house is busier than a cat with kittens, handling tons and tons of prunes where before was only handled pounds. The Farmers' Educational & Co-operative Union also are running to their fullest capacity, handling as many as forty tons in a single day. They have had better luck than they expected as over 2000 tons have been subscribed to the Union by farmers who have been quick to grasp the opportunity of getting the best there is. Next year the Union will remodel their packing house to accomodate its increased business and will build a large plant in addition to remodling the present inneficient building. As this was their first ysar, and more of an experiment than anything else, they did not expect such hearty response as the farmers have been giving them.

W. C. T. U.

The W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. Dr. Cooper on Wednesday October 27th at 2:30 p. m. It will be a Convention Echo meeting and reception to the teachers of the public school.

Bank Will Build Shortly

It is reported, from a good authority that the Campbell Bank will commence building operations on their lot on the corner of Campbell and Central avs. A committee has been appointed to look into the matter and find the cost, etc. of a modern two storied concrete building, to have a frontage on Campbell av. the entire width of the lot.

Assemblage of Paragraphs That Present Important Occurrences in Condensed Form.

Kentfield.—The annual grape festival held here recently netted about $800 for the orphanage at San Anselmo.

Seattle.—The state of California was awarded grand prizes by the exposition jury of awards on education. The gold medal prizes are for general educational displays.

Niles.—The proposition to issue $1000 bonds for a better equipment of the local fire department in order to secure lower insurance rates, has been carried unanimously, and the improvements will be made immediately.

Tehama.—John Ford, a farmer living in the Bend country near here, blew off his left hand with a shotgun while preparing to go hunting. Ford was reaching for the gun, when it was discharged as it was sliding toward him from the porch of his house.

Sacramento.—State pensions for superannuated teachers in the public schools of California may be the result of recent activities on the part of the state board of education. Letters are being sent out to city and county superintendents as a means of gathering preliminary information.

Oakland.—Sentenced to deportation, Wong Chum, a pretty Chinese girl, chose death rather than return to her native land, hanging herself in a bathroom of the county jail. She was discovered just in time to save her life, physicians working over her for an hour and a half before they succeeded in resuscitating her.

Los Angeles.—As a result of stealing rides upon street cars, Aquin Garcia, 14 years old, son of a laborer, lost his life. When he hopped off a car on Vermont avenue he struck the track directly in front of a car going in the opposite direction, and his body was badly mangled, death being instantaneous.

Los Angeles.—The oldest divorce applicant on record in this county, Colonel Edward Hicklin of Pomona, was granted a decree by Judge James. He is 82, and the bond just severed, held him to Mrs. Mattie J. King Hicklin, aged 70. They were married in June, 1908. Hicklin alleged his wife deserted him after five weeks of matrimony.

Woodland.—Winfred Ludden of this place, who, when he saw a member of the Swastika football team of Davis injured during a game with a team from Vallejo, volunteered his services as substitute, is dead. Ludden was playing a heroic game, when he was tackled by a member of the opposing team, and in the scrimmage that followed his spine was broken.

Berkeley.—As an introduction to the short courses in agriculture, which will be given on the university farm at Davis, a farmers' week will be held, October 25 to 30, for general discussion of problems of the farm and for the education of the fruit grower and cattle raiser. Besides members of the faculty of the university who will be heard during farmers' week, prominent agriculturists of the state will make addresses.

Alameda.—If the new city ordinance fathered by Coroner Tisdale and Mayor Noy is passed by the Alameda City Council, it will be a misdemeanor to tie a horse or any other animal to a shade tree in the city streets. Dr. Tisdale says that the small trees in the streets are being slowly killed through the carelessness of animal owners, who have made a practice of tying horses to trees and allowed them to eat off the leaves and bark.

Santa Cruz.—The greatest surprise of the grand lodge of Good Templars in session here last week was the action which places that order in the ranks of political parties. Traditions of the order were shattered when William Harvey Sr., of Fresno, proposed resolutions which were adopted, calling upon all subordinate lodges to join forces with the anti-saloon league, in putting down the saloon and in cities and counties where no such movement was in force and to nominate a ticket pledging candidates not to vote for a single saloon license.

BELIEVES SONOMA MOUNTAIN IS RICH IN COAL DEPOSITS

Prospector's Find May Cause Abandonment of Farming Pursuits.

Santa Rosa.—B. O'Donovan, a well-known resident of this city, has been prospecting for some time past, and has reached the conclusion from the surface indications that Sonoma mountain is filled with coal. This mountain is between this city and Petaluma, and is at present devoted to agricultural and dairy purposes. Should coal be found there the agricultural pursuits would be instantly abandoned. O'Donovan bases his theory on the fact that oil and gas have been struck in large quantities at Petaluma on the south and in places in Rincon valley.

HURRICANE PUTS HUNDREDS IN PERIL OF STARVATION

Key West Appeals to Country to Relieve Sufferings of Homeless.

Key West, Fla.—Immediate assistance of the outside world is necessary to carry on the work of cleaning up the city and caring for the victims of the recent hurricane. Mayor Fogarty announced that the city was forced to suspend work because of lack of funds. Great suffering already is reported among the employees of the large tobacco factories which suffered heavily by the storm. Hundreds are in peril of starvation, it is declared. Sewers are broken and clogged throughout the town, and an epidemic of sickness is feared.

NO SCARCITY OF CARS TO HANDLE GREAT FRUIT CROP

San Joaquin Growers Assured Crops Will Be Moved Quickly.

Fresno.—According to J. T. Ronan of the Pacific Fruit Express, the fruit men of San Joaquin valley will not want for cars to handle their goods this fall. Ronan states that 200 of the 1500 new cars ordered recently have been received and will soon be put at the disposal of the fruit growers by the Southern Pacific Company. When all of the new cars have arrived, it is estimated that a total of 8100 cars will be here to handle the citrus fruit crop of this season and the deciduous fruit of next season.

Crellin Estate May Pay Heavy Tax.

Oakland. — Classing the Thomas Crellin Estate Company as a "stranger corporation," which, under the laws of the State, is subject to a graded tax on inherited property of from 5 to 15 per cent, County Treasurer M. J. Kelly filed an action to recover from the corporation under this guise. The total demanded will foot up to about $125,000, the estate company having had property worth $900,000 transferred to it during Crellin's lifetime.

No Change in Southern Pacific.

New York.—"There will be no radical changes in the policy of the Southern Pacific in California; it will be developed along the lines Mr. Harriman laid out before his death; there will be no immediate changes in the official personnel of the Southern Pacific in California." This in brief was the announcement made here by William F. Herrin, general counsel of the Southern Pacific in California upon his return from a six months' visit to Europe.

Will of Thirteen Words.

Berkeley.—In thirteen words Irving Stringham, the late acting president of the University of California, bequeathed his entire estate to his wife, Martha Sherman Day Stringham. Fruit Drying Plant Destroyed by Fire.

Chico.—The big fruit-drying plant on the H. B. Reed place, a mile north of Chico, on the Shasta road, was destroyed by fire a few days ago. The loss is estimated at $5000, partially covered by insurance. The fire started from an unknown cause in the evaporator of the plant.

Boy Heir to Fortune Found.

Muskogee, Okla.—Onis Evans, the twelve-year-old youth, heir to a fortune, who was supposed to have been kidnaped here a couple of weeks ago, has been found. He had run away from home.

J. J. Hill Denies Rumor.

St. Paul, Minn.—J. J. Hill denies that the Great Northern railway is trying to enter Harriman territory in California by extending the Oregon Trunk Line to San Francisco.

Peary's Friends Brand Cook's Mountain Climb a Fake

New York.—The Globe a few days ago printed an affidavit made by Edwin N. Barrill, who accompanied Dr. Frederick A. Cook at the time he announced his reaching the summit of Mount McKinley. The affidavit was made before a notary public at Tacoma, Wash., October 4, and has just been received in New York.

Barrill's affidavit states in effect that he was the only person present with Dr. Cook on the date when Cook claims to have reached the summit of Mount McKinley, that they did not in fact reach the summit, and the nearest point to the summit reached was at least fourteen miles distant from the summit of that mountain, the elevation at no time exceeding 10,000 feet. The affidavit also brings into question a number of the photographs which Dr. Cook has given as representing the summit and other high altitudes of Mount McKinley.

Barrill recounts that at the start of the trip he prepared to keep an exact diary and sets forth that this diary, marked exhibit A, attached to the affidavit, "is a pocket diary kept by me during all the time that I was with Dr. Cook near Mount McKinley, and the same is a truthful record, with the exception of the entries and changes made by me therein under the orders of Dr. Cook."

The diary referred to by Barrill as attached to the affidavit is now in possession of the New York Globe.

Seattle.—Water P. Miller of this city, photographer of Dr. Cook's Mount McKinley expedition, has made an affidavit corroborating that of Barrill in every detail. When shown Barrill's story he said that it was correct. Miller says he has photographs and maps that fully confirm the statements of Barrill.

Atlantic City, N. J.—Expressing astonishment at the statement of Edward Barrill, Dr. Cook maintained that he had ascended to the summit of Mount McKinley, and said further that if an expedition will follow the route he took they will find the records deposited by him at the summit of the mountain. Referring to Barrill's sworn statement, Dr. Cook said: "If an expedition of experienced mountaineers will follow the route that I took, and will go to the top of Mount McKinley, they will find there the records which I deposited on attaining the summit of the mountain in the manner described in my book, 'To the Top of the Continent.' It appears to me that there was money behind his statement. He was perhaps annoyed that he had not been paid his wages, but that was not my fault, and I remedied the matter as soon as I got back from the Pole. We have learned that money had been offered for information regarding my ascent of Mount McKinley."

Tacoma, Wash.—That Commander Peary's friends are spending large sums of money on the affidavits regarding Cook's Mount McKinley trip is evidenced by the fact that General James M. Ashton was employed by General Hubbard of the Peary Arctic Club to get the affidavits of Barrill and others and take them to New York. Ashton is the most prominent Tacoma lawyer.

Spain's Young Ruler Trembles in Terror of Revolt

Barcelona.—Prof. Francisco Ferrer, the Spanish educator and convicted revolutionist, was shot last week at the fortress of Montjuich, where the prisoner had been confined since his condemnation by court martial. With the execution of Francisco Ferrer, the authorities have removed from the affairs of Spain one long suspected of revolutionary activities and who, because of his education and influence, was deemed of peculiar danger to the state.

Madrid—With many leading papers predicting revolution and King Alphonso storming at the cabinet for advising him to permit the execution of Professor Ferrer, with the people aroused almost to a mob frenzy and all Europe aghast, Spain today is confronted with the most critical situation in a long list of national troubles that have been threatening for the last year to disrupt the nation. The King is horrified at the storm of protest that has followed the execution of Ferrer. It is understood that he bitterly reprimanded his ministers for having advised him to permit it. He charged that his advisors had kept him ignorant of the true situation and that he had no idea of the sentiment throughout Europe.

It is understood that the cabinet offered to resign, but that the King refused the offer, commanding the ministers to retain their positions and extricate him from the difficulty into which they had thrust him. The news of the attempts of the great mob in Paris to attack the Spanish embassy was a great shock to the King. The fury with which the news was received by the populace here and the rigid methods made necessary throughout the country to preserve order have given Alphonso ground for fear.

The threats upon the lives of the royal infants and the lives of the ministry in case the sentence of Ferrer was carried out are recalled now with greatest anxiety. Guards have been doubled and orders have been given for the utmost measures of protection for the royal infants. The threats against their lives said that they would be slain within six months. The nature of this threat means that the anxiety of the King and Queen is not to be of short duration.

Great Railroad Traffic Shows Prosperity of Nation

New York.—According to Julius Kruttschnitt, director of operation and maintenance of the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific lines and the allied Harriman interests, the freight movement of the country is greater than ever before.

"Our reports," said Kruttschnitt, "show that traffic of the railroads for October this year will considerably exceed that of October, 1907, when it reached its high water mark. We have not yet reduced it to terms of percentage, but sufficient data are now in hand to substantiate my statement.

"This is an indisputable sign that the country has fully recovered from the industrial and financial depression that followed the disastrous panic of two years ago. Moreover, it shows beyond doubt that everybody is at work and that our marvelous productive capacity has resumed its normal efficiency."

Mother Saved Her Babes.

Mill Valley.—Awakened by the sound of crackling timbers over her head, Mrs. Benjamin Apple, the wife of a local physician, bravely took her two little children in her arms and escaped from her burning home here at 2 o'clock in the morning, and a few moments later the roof under which they had been sleeping crashed inward and the entire residence, valued at $35,000, was destroyed.

Engineer Would Burn Man to Death.

Portland.—Syenter Boyer, second assistant engineer on the steamship Kansas City, was arrested on a warrant charging him with an attempt to roast Otto Martin, a coal passer, to death by locking him in one of the fireboxes of the steamer and shoveling burning coals under the grate beneath his feet.

Gets Damages for Service to Mother.

Grand Rapids, Mich.—Because she stayed home and cared for her parents for nineteen years, when she might have married and made a home for herself, Margaret O'Mara was awarded $3114 by a jury in the Circuit Court in a suit brought against her mother, Catherine O'Mara. It developed that the mother promised to pay the daughter regular wages if she would stay at the od farm in Ada township.

Czar Depletes Finnish Treasury.

Helsingfors.—An imperial manifesto provides that the military contribution of $4,000,000 shall be taken from the Finnish treasury and turned over to Russia. The Finns have not decided upon any definite line of resistance and disorders are improbable. Russian reinforcements are expected to arrive here soon.

MAKE THE RIVERS WORK.

It Is Time for the Whole Country to Awake to Its Opportunity.

The American waterways commission need not be conducted as a junketing body. Its members could have obtained from American engineers and from printed data every fact they seek, but things seen make a more vivid impression, and there is much to see.

Before their steamboat train has whirled them from Cherbourg to Paris, says the New York World, they will notice along the lower Seine, a small river like our upper Connecticut, dozens of tows, hundreds of laden barges, thousands of tons of heavy merchandise pulled up and down by puffing tugs. At Charenton, where the Seine and Marne unite to make Paris possible, they will find a vast entrepot of water-borne freight and farther south a complicated system of little canals which have set the rivers to work all the way across France.

If some of the members land in England they will find the Thames also canalized with frequent locks and hard at work carrying goods far above Oxford, where it is so narrow that racing shells cannot be rowed side by side. Small as it is, the island is criss-crossed by waterways, and it has from Liverpool to Manchester one ship canal leading to the heart of the greatest compact industrial population in the world.

Excepting that at Manchester, the English and French canals are not so large as to cause surprise. It does surprise most Americans to see how much work is done by them and the tiny rivers which they connect—rivers that are seldom by such use despoiled of their beauty and charm for residence or for pleasure boating. But it is in Germany that they will see the greatest example of progressive waterways improvement.

Lord Carlisle on his way to Turkey in 1853 was struck by the vast inferiority of river traffic on the Rhine compared with the Hudson. Modern Germany has made the Rhine one of the world's busy rivers, and at Ruhrort has created a huge fresh-water port to swing part of the Rhenish foreign commerce eastward into Germany instead of allowing it all to follow the river through Holland. Something like this Canada is doing with us, but in this case it is the little nation taking away the big nation's trade.

Senator Burton and his associates will find Germany's rivers and canals carrying more tons of freight per mile than her well-conducted railways; they will find the Prussian rivers flowing northward sluggishly through a level plain; canals cutting them at right angles, making Berlin itself almost a seaport, and finally the Kiel ship canal cutting a short line from the Baltic to the North Sea. And they will find the water routes working as aids of the railroads, not rivals, relieving them of slow and heavy freight.

American railroads are private property, while canals are usually and rivers nominally always public. The railroads have used their powerful influence to kill canal and river traffic. Some railroad men, like Mr. Hill, see now that this was bad policy. Whether they do or not, the people should defend, restore and improve their own property, whose value, including power, is beyond the capacity of arithmetic to reckon.

The two greatest cities in America were made by water traffic advantages which compelled the railroads to come to them. New York State, Illinois and the city of Chicago have shown and are about to show further what canals and rivers can do for commerce. It is time for the whole country to awake to its opportunity.

Negro Slavery in Indiana.

A single line in an abstract of title of the property known as the Buschmann Block has attracted much curious attention from all who have seen it, the Indianapolis News says. This line would seem to indicate that at one time, and as late as 1841, there could be property in Indiana in slaves.

The Buschmann real estate was once owned by John G. Shaw, who signed himself as of Marion County, Indiana, in a will bequeathing this property and his personal estate. The will is dated July 28, 1841, and contains this paragraph:

"I do hereby bequeath to my wife my negro slave, Charles Cook." The will is attested by Austin W. Morris and John S. Bobbs, both among the best-known of the earlier citizens of Indianapolis, the latter being famous as a surgeon even in that day. It bears the name of Robert B. Duncan, father of the present lawyer, John S. Duncan, as clerk of the court.

This is a strange record, as Indiana came into the Union in 1816 as a free State and slavery was not tolerated here. When a slave crossed the Ohio River from Kentucky he could be returned to his owner, but that he could be held as a slave in Indiana was not possible, certainly not as late as 1841, when sentiment against slavery had greatly strengthened. One explanation of this singular line in the Shaw will is that the slave here named might not have been in Indiana, but was probably in Kentucky, though the will gives no intimation as to his residence.

Paris.—The Compagnie Generale de Navigation Aerienne, which controls the patents of the Wright brothers so far as their exploitation in France is concerned, caused a theoretical seizure to be effected of practically every biplane on exhibition at the aeronautic salon, on the ground that certain details of their construction were infringements of the Wright patents.

Washington.—The Controller of the Currency, announced last week that the First National Bank of Mineral Point, Wis., had closed its doors, and that a receiver had been appointed. The bank has a capital of $100,000 and deposits of $505,978. The discovery of alleged forgeries and defalcations aggregating, according to unofficial advices, approximately $210,000, resulted in closing the doors of the bank.

Caldwell, N. J.—Guy C. Bannard has received a registered letter from Boise, Idaho, containing a $100 bill and reading: "Your kind loan made to me last May is herewith returned with interest. Have made good, mostly owing to your generosity." One day last May, Mr. Bannard gave a stranger the task of finishing the lawn. He engaged him in conversation and upon learning that he was a fellow Harvard graduate loaned him $10. The letter with the $100 is the only word Mr. Bannard received from the man whom he helped.

Our New Hair Vigor

Ayer's Hair Vigor was good, the best that was made. But Ayer's Hair Vigor, new improved formula, is better. It is the one great specific for falling hair. A new preparation in every way. New bottle. New contents. Ask your druggist to show it to you, "the new kind."

Does not change the color of the hair.

Ayer's Formula with each bottle. Show it to your doctor. Ask him about it, then do as he says

As we now make our new Hair Vigor it does not have the slightest effect upon the color of the hair. You may use it freely and for any length of time without fear of changing the color. Stops falling hair. Cures dandruff.

Amusing the Baby.

A simple device for keeping baby amused and happy is to fasten at intervals upon a broad bright ribbon the little toys of which he is most fond, suspending the ribbon above the bed upon which he lies, within reach of his little hands, by securing one end to the head of the bed and the other to the foot. He will then entertain himself by the hour pushing the toys back and forth and watching them swing above him.—Harper's Bazar.

BEAUTIFUL MANCHURIAN CITY.

Dalny's Streets, in the Administration Section, Like Those of Paris.

If you could lift up 112 of the finest villas on the outskirts of a European city, gardens and all, and drop them down on the slope of a hill overlooking a beautiful harbor you would have one section of Dalny, writes Frank G. Carpenter. This famous city of the Czar, built by the Russians at the southern end of the Transsiberian system, is more like Europe than Asia.

The administration section, devoted to the railway officials, is made up of magnificent dwellings of brick and stone, running along wide streets, each surrounded by a beautiful garden. There is no Asiatic architecture in this part of the city, and as one drives through it he cannot realize that he is in the wilds of Manchuria.

The streets are as clean as the boulevards of Paris, they are lighted by electricity, and the houses are all large and made after a uniform style.

There is an administration building, with scores of offices; a Greek church, which will accommodate more than 1,000, and a big hotel, which is one of the best in the far east.

Dalny is becoming a new city under the rule of the Mikado. The Russians spent something like $20,000,000 in dredging the harbor, in erecting huge granite docks and in putting up magnificent buildings for their offices and homes.

When the war closed a large part of the city had been burned. The roofs were off many of the houses. The Chinese had carried away the doors and windows and had even tried to steal the Russian stoves.

In the residence section the most of these damages have since been repaired and a new town is rising between that place and the harbor. There are 15 brickyards now making building material, and hundreds of Manchurian masons and carpenters are working away.

Outside of a population of 58,000 of the Mongolian race there are in Dalny just 56 Europeans and Americans, composed chiefly of consuls and their employes, and a very few traders.

Why Bread Is Dear.

The demand is greater than the supply, says James J. Hill in Outing. We have reached the end of our virgin wheat land and our yields are shrinking while our population is increasing. That is where conservation touches us practically; but we need not worry. Nature is going to take care of things. Necessity will punish us and remedy matters in her own stern way if we do not mend our methods. When wheat does not average so much an acre it is not worth raising. Now consider a moment where this trend of things is landing us. Do you know how long it took England to mend her methods—to raise her averages from twelve and fifteen to twenty-five and thirty and forty bushels an acre? It took her almost fifty years. In fifty years what population will we have to feed? And we have not even begun to mend our methods. It is the supremely big question of the day. Shall we act now and save ourselves national disaster, or wait till necessity compels us—and then act? Compare agricultural interests to any other national interests to-day! What were the total returns from the farms of the United States last year? Seven billion dollars! Compare that to the returns from the forests—$1,250,000; and our farm averages are not a third of what they ought to be, of what they could be made by simple rational methods. Other countries have trebled and quadrupled their yield. So could we.

Not Much Public Land Left.

Of the public land, some 375,000,000 acres, or one-sixth of the original territory, remain—but nearly every acre is too arid for settlement on the original plan. Of State land the amount is limited, save swamp and overflow tracts that can hardly be settled by individual effort.

Over 75,000,000 acres of wet lands might be reclaimed to form homes for 10,000,000 people, the American Review of Reviews says, while 40,000,000 or 50,000,000 acres of arid lands might be irrigated to sustain as many more, but this cannot be done by individual or family pioneering, and must be done, if at all, either at collective cost in the public interest or by corporate enterprise for personal interest. No longer is Uncle Sam "rich enough to give us all a farm;" his princely possession of a century past is already given.

EASTMAN'S EFFECTS SOLD.

Property of Mrs. Woodill's Slayer Purchased as Relics.

All of the personal effects of the late "Lame Bob" Eastman, the murderer of Mrs. Edith May Woodill, and himself a suicide, were sold at auction the other day in Easton, Md. They were auctioned off by an attorney for Mrs. Lavinia Eastman, the administratrix. There was a large attendance and the bidding was brisk, many of the articles bringing several times their real value, many persons wanting them for keepsakes. Eastman's motor boat, in which Mrs. Woodill took her fatal ride to his bungalow, brought $285, and went to George B. Taylor. The oars belonging to his boat were bought by Neil Shanahan at three times their value. Other articles sold were the revolver with which Eastman killed himself, a barrel of alcohol, and his dishes and furniture, all of which brought good prices as relics of the double tragedy. The crowd came in autos, carriages and launches.

A Substitute.

The young lawyer, having been nominated for the office of county attorney, thought to surprise an eccentric genius by the name of Si who was working as a hired man on the young lawyer's father's farm.

"Well, Si, what do you think?" the young man began.

"Sometimes one thing, Lonny, an' sometimes 'nother."

"But, Si, they have nominated me for county attorney."

"They might 'a' done worse, Lonny. Howsomever, don't holler till you're out of the woods."

The young attorney was duly elected, and on his next visit to the farm announced the fact unctuously to Si, who was at the wood pile, saw in hand.

"Well, Si, I am elected by a large majority. What do you think of that?"

"Well, Lonny, down in our parts where I was raised, when we wanted a stopper, 'n' hadn't any cork, we generally took a corn-cob."

Versatile Destiny.

A man becomes a fan and soon loses his hearth and home. Another yearns to shuffle off this mortal coil and gets kicked into a prison cell by his hasty father. Another learns to his surprise, as thousands have learned before him in various ways, that there are all kinds of unsuspected dangers in sitting on a sofa with a young woman. A wife may spring a divorce, a father make take a sudden notion to kick or spank, and lightning may yank an innocent young man away from his girl and make dents in the ceiling with him. Destiny is a surprisingly versatile thing, with a million and one ways of knocking human plans galley-west.

A Remarkable Journey.

In a history issued of Harper's Weekly Harry A. Franck describes a remarkable journey undertaken by him on foot across the robber-infested Lebanon range to Damascus. Everybody tried to induce him to abandon this enterprise. At one village the sheikh invited him to sit in his shop entrance upon a stool and placed an earthenware pot in front of him, into which every passer-by was urged to drop a coin. The pot was almost full when an English-speaking villager explained its meaning. The sheikh was taking up a collection to purchase for the author a railroad ticket to Damascus. Mr. Franck picked up his knapsack and stepped into the street. But the sheikh and several bystanders threw themselves upon me with cries of dismay. It was no use attempting to escape from a dozen horny hands. I permitted myself to be led back to the stool and sat down with the knapsack across my knee. The sheikh addressed me in soothing tones, pointing at the pot with every third word. The others resumed their seats on the floor, rolled new cigarettes and fell quiet once more. With one leap I sprang from the stool into the street and set off at top speed down the highway, a screaming, howling, ever-increasing, but ever more distant throng at my heels."

COMPULSORY VACCINATION

The recent decision of the court in the matter of the validity of the vaccination law was perfectly right but we believe that it is an unjust law and one that should be repealed. Vaccination is considered by some people as dangerous and injurious, and it is not right that these people should be compelled to have their children vaccinated. We are not in a position to know if it is injurious or not though we do think it unjust.

Destructive processes are always much more rapid than constructive. This is why a profane, careless and brutal hired man can do more harm with a herd of dairy cows or the farm horses in six weeks than the owner or a careful man can offset in twice as many months.

The jungle fowl of Australia builds a nest that is in a class by itself. It is in the shape of a mound, being often 15 feet in height and 150 in circumference at the base. The nests are usually placed in secluded, sheltered spots and are built of leaves, grass and twigs woven together.

The man who has a bunch of dairy cows which he is not milking just for the fun of it and won't invest a dollar a year in some good dairy paper is a good deal like the small boy who thinks he can get an education without going to school. In both cases there is a lamentable failure in the adaptation of means to end.

The cow can overload on most anything that is not in itself injurious and not have her digestive apparatus put out of whack. Not so with the horse, which often gets out of condition simply by the continuance of a hearty working ration into a comparatively short period of idleness. This difference suggests the wisdom of exercising an especial oversight in the case of the horse.

An interesting illustraton of what may be done in the line of plant development and breeding is found in the case of sugar beets, whose sugar content has been increased from 8 or 10 to as high as 20 per cent. Where a business is made of raising the seed all of the beets intended for seed are given the sugar test, and only those found to possess a high per cent are used in seed production.

A tendency which is bound to affect not only future wheat prices, but even more vitally the agricultural welfare of sections at present growing this staple, is noticeable in a material reduction of acreage in the wheat growing sections and the substitution of other crops in rotation which do not mean so heavy a pull on the fertility of the soil. With an ever increasing number of mouths to feed this means of necessity higher breadstuffs, but it also means a better type of agriculture where the change is effected.

A good many dairy states might well follow the example of Kansas, which has inaugurated a vigorous campaign against tuberculosis. An appropriation by the state legislature is to be used for the purpose, and the plan is to have all dairy herds in the state examined during the next two years. As fast as herds are examined all infected animals will be tagged on the ear with aluminium buttons, which means that the owner must either kill the animal or ship it to market at once for immediate slaughter.

Owing to the generally recognized truth that the average man will not work as well for another as he will for himself, he should aim as soon as possible to own the land which he works. On the other hand, many men owing to lack of ability to plan and manage never do so well when working for themselves as when under the supervision of another. In such cases one does better to continue in the employment of another, making his service as effective as possible, that he may get the best return possible for it.

Reliable makes of gasoline engines are coming more and more into favor as a substitute for windmill and tread power on the farm. Not only are they not at the mercy of windstorms, but they do not peter out in periods of calm. An additional advantage is that they can be moved from place to place and used for a variety of purposes. The oil consumption of a five or six horsepower machine should not exceed 50 cents per day of ten hours' continuous running. For farm uses the oil or air cooled cylinder machines are preferable in that there is no danger of a freeze up of the cylinder jacket in cold weather. A few additional dollars invested in the purchase of a first class engine in the long run effects a considerable saving in repairs and lessens the tax on a fellow's nerves and religion.

An agricultural journal which prides itself on the reliability of the firms whose advertisements appear in its columns not long ago carried an alluring advertisement of a "paint man" whose bonanza product by an analysis made by the South Dakota experiment station was found to contain about 30 per cent aqua pura, which a fellow can get cheap by working a pump handle. Either the editor of this publication doesn't consider the work of experiment stations practical and doesn't scan their bulletins very closely or else the aqua pura chap has mended his ways.

There would be considerable benefit to the horse raisers in any community if they could agree on the raising of some particular type of draft horse. Not only could they thus by co-operating secure higher priced and more perfect sires, but the raising of one breed would tend to give the community a reputation in this regard which would attract more buyers and in so far insure considerably higher prices through the competition which would result.

There are large areas of arable land in the United States where there is no gospel which needs proclaiming more emphatically than that of an intensive type of agriculture—the thorough and intelligent working of forty, fifty or sixty acres, in place of the shiftless, skin over and devil-may-care methods the baleful effects of which are seen so commonly on 160 to 320 acre farms. Increase in land values, coupled with a decrease in yield as a result of following slipshod methods and the scarcity of reliable help, is going to compel this partition of land areas some time, but the change might be accelerated a good deal if the wholesomeness and good horse sense of it were recognized now.

Homesteads and Placer Claims

A very creditable little booklet entitled as above has reached our desk, and we can say that it is worth the price asked 10 cents. It describes the conditions in in the Philipines and how to get health and wealth there. No flowery language is used but the bare facts are told in a manner which leaves the reader to think for himself in deciding the merits of the place. It is written by George Worster and can be had from him at Santa Cruz.

CAMPBELL
(THE ORCHARD CITY)

Lies 50 miles south of San Francisco, on the Santa Cruz Division of the Southern Pacific Railway, and is the central point of the most fruitful, diversified and senic section of the famous Santa Clara Valley. Superb electric car service places it within but a few minutes' ride of San Jose, the metropolis of the valley, Los Gatos, the Gem City of the foothills, Congress Springs, the medicinal virtue of which waters is unexcelled; Saratoga another beautiful foothill city, and as you ride past and through the thousands of orchard and vineyard homes, and merge into the picturesque canyons of the foothills of the evergreen Santa Cruz Mountains, you can but exclaim: "This is a goodly heritage!"

SCENERY SUPERB

With the Santa Cruz Mountains to the west and south and the Coast Range on the east, a majestic amphitheater is formed, the beauty of which can not be excelled anywhere. Campbell has an altitude of 195 feet. The cool breezes from San Francisco bay at the north insure an even and comfortable temperature throughout the summer months, while the winters are warm and plesant. Flowers bloom out of doors the year around.

FINE ROADS AND RESORTS

The Santa Clara Valley boasts of the finest roads to be found in the State. It has over 350 miles of sprinkled rural highways. In attractions for tourists the Santa Clara Valley can not be surpassed. Thirty-two miles eastward over a magnificent mountain road is the famous Lick Observatory on Mt. Hamilton, 4,444 feet above sea level. There are numerous mountain retreats within two hours' drive for those who love the camp and the sparkling brook. The sea beach to the southward 27 miles by rail or carriage drive, and through the most beautiful mountain scenery in the world.

A trip to the Big Trees, twenty feet in diameter and two thousand years old, will furnish a delightful day's outing.

EDUCATIONAL ADVANTAGES

Campbell has a population of about 600. It maintains a (third class) postoffice which distributes to 3,000 patrons, covering over 30 square miles of orchard homes. There are two chusches—Methodist and Congregational, a first-class High School and Graded School, and within a few miles are two Universities, two Colleges, a State Normal School and several Business Colleges and private schools. The Stanford University, with its marvelous architecture, is only 20 miles away.

NO SALOONS

Campbell has a complete water system of its own. It has electric lights and power for mechanical purposes, which is distributed throughout the orchard district. A telephone exchange serves over 40,000 people. A prohibitory clause in all deeds to property within the town limits, prevents the saloon from being established.

BUSINESS INTERESTS

Campbell has the largest fruit packing and drying establishment in the world, the best equipped cannery on the coast, catering to the highest class export trade, a fruit syrup establishment, lumber yards, planning mill and stores of all kinds. It also has a weekly newspaper and modern job printing plant. The Bank of Campbell, with individual deposits amounting to a quarter of a million dollars, is a fair indication of the prosperity of the community.

FRUIT CENTER

Campbell is pre-eminently a fruit center, and offers unusual opportunities for profitable investment, whether it be a large commercial orchard, a chicken ranch, or a small orchard home adapted to those who want to earn a few hundred dollars a year to supplement a limited income or annuity. The Campbell fruit district is noted for the quality of its fruit, and for this reason has become a trade center. The man with a few boxes of fruit has the same opportunities for selling his products as the man with many tons. Our large packing and drying establishments will have their agents at your door before the fruit begins to color.

INTERURBAN CONDITIONS

Campbell is neither urban nor suburban, but is in fact, as well as in name, an Orchard City—a city of orchard homes, with all the conveniences necessary for 20th century comfort. The demand for intelligent labor is increasing every year, and families desiring profitable employment in orchards, packing houses and canneries find tihs an ideal home.

LAND VALUES MODERATE

Acerage can be secured at various prices. Bare land, sutible for chicken ranch, hay, grain or vineyard, can be secured for $100 per acre. Productive orchards sell for from $200 to $500 per acre, depending on the record of the orchard for productiveness.

In buying an orchard here you do not buy a "pig in a poke"—facts and figures will be given you, showing what returns can reasonably be expected from your investment.
